1-1-2005

CO 520 Narrative Pastoral Counseling

Burrell D. Dinkins

Follow this and additional works at: http://place.asburyseminary.edu/syllabi

Recommended Citation
http://place.asburyseminary.edu/syllabi/2769

This Document is brought to you for free and open access by the eCommons at ePLACE: preserving, learning, and creative exchange. It has been accepted for inclusion in Syllabi by an authorized administrator of ePLACE: preserving, learning, and creative exchange. For more information, please contact thad.horner@asburyseminary.edu.
A Syllabus and General Guide for
Narrative Pastoral Counseling
CO520
July 2005

Burrell D. Dinkins, Th.D.
Johnson Professor of Pastoral Leadership and Counseling

(Notice: This is a semi-final copy of the syllabus. The textbooks will remain the same, but the class schedule and subjects may change. A final syllabus will be distributed on the first day of class.)
I. Course Description:

This course is designed as an examination of the theory and practice of a postmodern approach to counseling from the perspective of narrative. The process of authoring and reauthoring lives through stories will be examined from the disciplines of literature, psychology, Bible, theology, psychotherapy and spiritual direction.

II. General Goals: The goals of CO520 are to help students:

1. Develop a basic understanding of the issues of postmodern theory and techniques of counseling.
2. Integrate narrative theory with the practice of narrative counseling.
3. Bridge the gap between exegesis and diagesis in Bible studies.
4. Examine the importance of asking timely, well-formulated questions.
5. Explore how lives are authored and create conversations to reauthor personal life stories.
6. Discover the potential of a solution orientation to human concerns,
7. Discover ways to become practitioners of Narrative Counseling,

III. Prerequisite For the Course:

Before enrolling in this class students must have successfully completed PC 510 (Pastoral Care and Counseling), or have permission of the instructor to enroll.

IV. Time: The class will meet Monday – Friday, 8:30-12:00 and 1:00-3:00, July 18-22, 2005

V. A. Course Reading: A minimum of 1200 pages of reading in textbooks and research projects will be required.

B. Research Projects: Students will select a topic related to narrative studies for research and write a 10-12 page academic paper.
C. Practice Sessions: Students will be asked to practice narrative counseling skills in class sessions.

D. Final Exam. An open book take home exam will be used to evaluate academic knowledge and clinical skills.

Evaluation System: The following percentages will determine the numerical and the letter grade.

30%: Research project

20%: Team role-play and class discussion

20% Reading report

30%: Final exam paper

VII. Texts:

Class Schedule

Monday, July 18
A. Introduction To Narrative Pastoral Counseling

Goals: At the completion of this class session you should:
1. Understand the syllabus and class assignments
2. Become a member of a sharing, study and research group
3. Share some aspect of your life story
4. Develop a deeper appreciation of the influence of stories in everyday life
   Read: Story As A Way of Knowing
   A Primer of Postmodernism

B. Philosophical Assumptions and Aims of Modernist and Postmodern Counseling

Goals: At the completion of this class session you should:
1. Have a basic understanding of the influence of philosophical assumptions on counseling theories and practices
2. Discuss and critique key issues in modernity and postmodernity
3. Discuss theological concerns with postmodernity
   Read: Story As A Way of Knowing, Part II, pp. 63-117
   Narrative Therapy In Practice, Chapter 2. pp. 32-50

Tuesday, July 19
A. Assumptions and Practice of Narrative Counseling

Goals: At the completion of this class session you should:
1. Examine your assumptions about counseling and how they influence your practice
2. Critique the assumptions of the instructor
3. Share stories of assumptions influencing behavior
   Read: Narrative Means To Therapeutic Ends, Chapter 1, pp.1-37

B. Hosting a Narrative Conversation

Goals: At the completion of this class session you should:
1. Understand the importance of metaphors in counseling
2. Practice hosting a narrative “authoring and reauthoring” conversation
3. Develop a sense of curiosity, wander and awe in the creation of conversational realities
4. Use externalizing techniques in narrative conversations
   Read: Narrative Therapy In Practice, Chapters 3-7, pp. 53-213
C. Asking Good Questions

Goals: At the completion of this session you should:
1. Understand the difference between questions based in modernity and postmodern questions
2. Learn to use circular questions to deconstruct and enrich stories
3. Practice the use of narrative questions
   Read: Gadamer, Hans-Georg, Truth and Method, pp. 362-379 (A copy of this book and a copy of these pages may be found in library reserve)

Wednesday, July 20

A. Faith Conversations

Goals: At the completion of this class you should:
1. Feel confident in facilitating a faith conversation
2. Understand the role of pain and suffering in faith conversations
3. Develop of theory about the appropriateness and timing of faith conversations
   Read: Uncovering Stories of Faith (This book is out of print. A copy of the book is on library reserve.)

B. The Healing Power of Stories
   The class will view and discuss the film: “Big Fish.”

Goals: At the completion of this class session you should:
1. Understand how narrative pastoral counseling relates to the Christian story of redemption
2. Use miracle questions to help counselees discover redemptive stories
3. Discover the importance of hope in healing conversations

Thursday, July 21

A. Writing Narrative Letters to Counselees

Goals: At the completion of this class you should:
1. Understand both the theory and methodology of follow-up notes and letters after a narrative conversation
2. Practice writing a narrative letter
   Read: Narrative Means To Therapeutic Ends, Chapters 3&4, pp.77-117

B. Cross-cultural Narrative Counseling
   View the film “Amistad” in class.

Goals: At the completion of this session you should
1. Discuss the power of films to give voice to under privileged people and their stories
2. Learn how to discover forgotten stories in pastoral counseling
3. Share stories of repressed people
4. Develop a working knowledge of cross-cultural issues in counseling

Friday, July 22

A. Narrative Conversations in Times of Crises

Goals: At the completion of this class you should:
1. Be able to engage persons in crises in a narrative conversation
2. Formulate a theoretical understanding of growth potential in times of crises
3. Discover both your fears and your potential in crisis conversations

B. The Art of Biblical Narrative and Narrative Theology

Goals: At the completion of this class you should:
1. Have an appreciation for the narrative structure of the Bible
2. Articulate your critique of postmodern assumptions from a biblical and theological perspective
3. Formulate your use of biblical/theological material in your counseling

Read: Story As A way of Knowing, Part 3, pp. 121-240

VIII. Bibliography: (for additional reading and research papers)

Narrative Pastoral Counseling book. Read 2 reviews from the world's largest community for readers. Narrative Pastoral Counseling will expand your interest in narrative and increase your effectiveness in counseling through the use of stories. It both explains and demonstrates this revolutionary approach to counseling. Get A Copy. Amazon. Co 520. Co 530. Co 540. PA PASTORAL COUNSELING. An introductory study of the concepts, processes and skills of ministerial therapy. Biblical foundations and the use of the gifts of the church are emphasized. PA Bs biblical studies CM christian ministry co counseling gr graduate research ms music studies wI worship leadership. Biblical studies. Bs 500. Pastoral counseling, a clinical practice that integrates both psychological and theological concepts into its framework, is not unlike other modes of therapy when it comes to the therapeutic process. What sets it apart is the way faith, spirituality, and theology are incorporated into the model. Pastoral counselors believe this incorporation of spiritual exploration and support can foster wholeness, healing, and growth in those who are seeking help. Beyond providing psychotherapy, pastoral counselors utilize resources such as prayer, scripture study, and participation in the congregation community to help guide people on their journey toward transcendence, transformation, and greater connection to others. History of Pastoral Counseling. Pastoral Counselors serve clients in a variety of counseling settings, and establish ministries in places where clinical counselors seldom operate. Churches, prisons, industrial workplaces, corporate offices, hospitals, agencies of public safety, and even military combat zones are settings where pastoral counseling take place. Explore the many career options available to professionals entering the field of Pastoral Counseling.