JESSE SUBLETT PAPERS
1978 - (ongoing)
bulk: 1983-1995

1.5 linear feet
3 boxes
Oversize/Regalia: 1 box

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Jesse Sublett was born May 15, 1954, in Johnson City, Texas. He was valedictorian of Johnson City's LBJ High School Class of 1972, and attended Southwest Texas State University from 1972-1974 as an English major.

From 1974 until 1986 Sublett lived in Austin, where he played a dominant role in defining the live music scene as bass player and/or lead singer for a number of bands, most notably The Skunks, who recorded three records between 1978 and 1983.

During this time, Sublett began writing short pieces for the Austin Chronicle, including record and restaurant reviews, and in 1984 he was assigned to write a short piece on the club circuit which bands like The Skunks played. Instead, he submitted a semi-parodic music mystery entitled "Traveling the Hardboiled Highway," which imitated the style of a hardboiled detective novel. This marked the birth of Martin Fender, the central character in Sublett's first three novels. He submitted a second Fender piece, "The Nature of the Crime," which the Chronicle's editorial staff declined to publish but which they encouraged him to re-work as a novel. After finishing the re-titled Capitol Crimes, he wrote Rock Critic Murders with the intention of selling the two novels as a series. While waiting for the attention of publishers on the first two books, he began work on a third novel, Blunt Instrument.

In 1987 he moved to Los Angeles in order to be closer to the spirit of his hero Raymond Chandler. He continued to play music on the West Coast while awaiting responses from publishers and re-writing Blunt Instrument. Shortly thereafter, Lisa Kaufman at Viking took an interest in his work and agreed to publish Rock Critic Murders.

Sublett has written several screenplays, and served as story editor for the Disney series Adventures of the Old West. During 1994-1995 he ventured into nonfiction, writing a history of the Texas Turnpike Authority.
Sublett now lives in Austin with his wife Lois Richwine, their son Dashiell, and two cats.
Works Published

Novels:

Novella:

Stories:

   "Gore Galore", published in Detective Story Magazine, issue no. 6, November 1989
   "I am the City" in Hardboiled, issue no. 10, Spring 1989.
   "I've Got a Gun and It's Name is I.O.U." in Hardboiled Detective, issue no. 11, April 1991.

Screenplays:

   Hey Joe, 1988
   Rock Critic Murders, 1989
   Pay the Devil, 1990
   Hale Storm, 1991
   Shadows in the Sun, 1993
   In the West, 1995

Non-Fiction:

   The Texas Turnpike Authority, 1995
SCOPE AND CONTENTS

Book manuscripts, screenplays, drafts, cartoons, clippings, correspondence, photographs, ephemera, sound recordings, and regalia documenting Sublett’s careers as a rock musician and writer. Many of the drafts of Sublett’s writings include handwritten annotations by the author. Copies of certain letters to Richard Holland, Curator of the Southwestern Writers Collection, have been retained when they shed light on some phase of Sublett’s creative life.
SERIES DESCRIPTION

Series I: Early Works, 1985-1998
Box 1
This series, kept as a discrete group of materials by Sublett in his home, contains drafts of some of his short pieces for the Austin Chronicle, including The Nature of the Crime (1984), a piece never published but which prompted the Chronicle’s editorial staff to urge Sublett to write a novel. The rest of the items relate to Rock Critic Murders: consent & release forms, an early title page design containing a saguaro cactus, and blurbs solicited from James Ellroy, Gerald Petievich, and Kinky Friedman.

Series II: Austin Chronicle, 1983-1985
Box 1
Articles and stories appearing in the Austin Chronicle: "The Big Tape", "X-15: The 4-Track Walkman", and "Crying on the Shoulder of the Road" (Nov. 24, 1983); "Traveling the Hardboiled Highway", record review: Madonna Madonna (Mar. 23, 1984); "How to Make a Record" (Nov. 30, 1984); "Martin Fender & the Flat-Top Kid", short piece on Raymond Chandler for a feature on mystery writers (Dec. 13, 1985).

Series III: Novels, 1984-1987
Box 2
Contains a letter to Richard Holland explaining the sequence of Sublett’s works; a 2nd draft of Rock Critic Murders, a first draft of the book which ultimately became Tough Baby entitled Blunt Instrument, and a completely-rewritten second draft of Tough Baby entitled The Big Hurt.

Series IV: Screenplays, 1988-1993
Box 2
Contains a short note to Richard Holland describing Hale Storm as a first draft, and versions of Hey Joe, Rock Critic Murders, Pay the Devil, Hale Storm, Shadows in the Sun, (with Stephen Purvis), and two versions of In the West (with Stephen Purvis and Tom Huckabee).

Series V: Non-Fiction, 1995
Box 3
Notes and drafts for History of the Texas Turnpike Authority.
Series VI: Reviews & Publicity, 1982-1992
Box 3
Interviews, reviews, and notices documenting both Sublett’s music career and his writing career.

Box 3
Candid shots and publicity photos of Sublett and the Skunks.

Series VIII: Ephemera, 1982-1992
Posters and postcards advertising the Skunks, Boiled in Concrete, a novel by Andrew Vachss, and a magazine cover for which Sublett modeled.

Series IX: Sound Recordings, 1979-1982
1 45-rpm record; 1 2-record set (with lyrics); 1 cassette representing the recorded output of the Skunks.

Series X: Regalia, 1978-1982
Box 3
Artifacts from Sublett’s musical career.

Series XI: Original Documents
Box 3
This series is comprised of original copies of all clippings found in this collection.
Container List

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Box</th>
<th>Folder</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Series I: Early Works</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Series II: Austin Chronicle</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Series III: Novels</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4-5</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6-8</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Series IV: Screenplays</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Series V: Non-fiction</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>1-2</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Series VI: Reviews and Publicity

3 3 Photocopies of newsclippings relating to Sublett’s writing and activities with the band The Skunks.

Series VII: Photographs

3 4 Several black and white photographs of The Skunks, Sublett, and one unidentified young boy in a cowboy hat and bandanna.

Series VIII: Ephemera

5 Postcard advertising for Boiled in Concrete by Sublett, and Another Chance to Get it Right by Andrew Vachs, Christmas card from The Skunks, ad for Online Data Access magazine, The Skunks debut album poster, “Jesse Sublett’s Secret Six” poster, clubfoot debut poster for “Jesse Sublett’s Secret Six,” Skunks last show poster, Boiled in Concrete poster.

Series IX: Sound Recordings

Series X: Regalia

7 Two metal buttons, one pink and one black, on which “The Skunks” has been printed, two t-shirts, one black bearing the label “The Skunks” one red bearing label “KLBJ FM PRESENTS THE SKUNKS...,” black and white leather shoes worn by Sublett.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Box</th>
<th>Folder</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>8</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Series XI: Original Documents

Original copies of all newsclippings found in the collection.
The Southwestern Writers Collection is located at the Albert B. Alkek Library on the campus of Texas State University in San Marcos, a thirty-minute drive from Austin. Although the more renowned writers in this collection have some connection to Texas or the Southwest, either by birth or their subject matter, their impact extends to American letters. Western Writers of America, founded 1953, promotes literature, both fictional and non-fictional, pertaining to the American West. Although its founders wrote traditional western fiction, the more than six hundred current members also include historians and other non-fiction writers as well as authors from other genres. WWA was founded by six authors, including D. B. Newton. Fight writer’s block and find ways to express your love with these romantic, funny, and short wedding vow examples. Christmas. Entertaining. Beattie’s work has been included in several O. Henry Prize Story Collections as well as The Best American Short Stories of the Century. A Wonderful Stroke of Luck: A Novel (SHOP: $17, bookshop.org). An extraordinary collection of rare and unique treasures awaits visitors to the Southwestern Writers Collection, a distinguished archival repository that collects and preserves the works of the region’s renowned writers and filmmakers. Cormac McCarthy (1933-). Winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award, McCarthy’s novels include The Road, No Country for Old Men, All the Pretty Horses, and Blood Meridian.
This series originates from the Southwestern Writers Collection, an archive and cultural center established at Texas State University to celebrate the region’s writers and literary heritage. Books in the series include scholarly monographs drawn from the archives of leading writers such as Cormac McCarthy and Sam Shepard, anthologies that highlight key... An extraordinary collection of rare and unique treasures awaits visitors to the Southwestern Writers Collection, a distinguished archival repository that collects and preserves the works of the region’s renowned writers and filmmakers. Cormac McCarthy (1933-). Winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award, McCarthy’s novels include The Road, No Country for Old Men, All the Pretty Horses, and Blood Meridian. See more ideas about southwestern artists, art, painting. For more than thirty years, The Owings Gallery has consistently maintained an extensive collection of American art. Owings Gallery, Santa Fe Art Gallery, Gustave Baumann, American Art, Western Art, Taos Founders, Walter Ufer, William P. Henderson, Joseph Sharp, Gene Kloss, Gustave Baumann, Santa Fe Gallery, Canyon Road, New Mexico Museum of Art, Tony Abeyta, Ed Mell. An extraordinary collection of rare and unique treasures awaits visitors to the Southwestern Writers Collection, a distinguished archival repository that collects and preserves the works of the region’s renowned writers and filmmakers. Cormac McCarthy (1933-). Winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award, McCarthy’s novels include The Road, No Country for Old Men, All the Pretty Horses, and Blood Meridian.